Pope Leo's Successor

Attempts to Forecast the Outcome of the Next Conclave.

Cardinal Gotti Acknowledged to Be the Most Likely Candidate.

Yesterday's News From the Sick Room of the Vatican.

Rome, July 18.—Deprived of rest, the Pope spent today with serious depression. The doctors reported a feeble but rapid pulse, which was generally taken to indicate the wearing out of the patient's strength. The favorable symptoms recorded in the morning, of the lowering of the pleuritic liquid, was sufficiently maintained to relieve the Pontiff of his painful struggles for breath which lately have been so frequent. The sleepless night was succeeded by a day during which the Pope seemed to lack any desire to vary the medical routine by receiving visits from cardinals or others, but remained isolated from doctors and attendants. The nourishment which the Pontiff took at first seemed to encourage his entourage but the condition of the patient this evening points to the fact that it has not had any beneficial effect. What is more hoped for is that the Pope may be enabled to secure much needed rest.

A number of cardinals and especially their friends utilized the prolonged illness of the Pope to test the feelings which will prevail at the next conclave. The task is a difficult one, and it is claimed that the cardinals never had a chance to show their mettle under Leo XIII. Important questions being debated, commissions composed of a few cardinals, after having been settled practically by the Papal secretary of state. Much diversity of opinion regarding the candidates still exists, however, the probable candidates whose names have been mentioned since the Pope first became ill are Cardinals Gotti and Rampolla. As regards Cardinal Gotti, prefect of Propaganda, the objection is made that as he belongs to a religious order his election might in view of recent events, be considered a challenge to France. Against the chances of Cardinal Rampolla, the Papal secretary of state, it is urged that Austria will try to exercise her right of veto, as France would in the case of Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, the grand penitentiary, who is considered to be the candidate of the triple alliance. Cardinal Archbishop of Bologna has been dropped because since his last stroke of paralysis he speaks with difficulty. Cardinal Ferrari, archbishop of Milan, is not favored for the apparently trivial reason that he uses a motor car, which is not considered desirable in appearance of the church. Cardinal Agliardi, bishop of Albani, is regarded as too democratic. Therefore unless Cardinal Gotti, who has always been the most likely candidate, succeeds in overcoming the objection to him, it is likely that some one now mentioned will be elected to succeed Leo XIII. The cardinals themselves naturally maintain the greatest reserve, though they all, more or less, repeat, as though in the nature of a pass word, that the "Next Pope" must be one combining the piety of Pius IX. with the intelligence of Leo XIII.

After the last few weeks' experience, everybody has renounced making any predictions. Undoubtedly symptoms of amelioration exist, as while on Thursday morning when the pleuritic liquid regathered, the temperature reached 36, today when the liquid is lowering it fell to 28. In fact, it is known that on the occasion of the late pontificate, July 14, it now transpires that Gen. Bruzese was thrown from his horse and badly injured. He is resting on his estate at Orleans.

JAPAN'S PROSPERITY.

Enormous Gold Reserve and Much Capital Seeking Investment.

London, July 18.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Times says the Bank of Japan's gold reserve is 173,000,000 yen in Japan's 200,000,000 yen in notes, an unprecedented situation. The rate of interest is gradually falling and new joint stock undertakings are being floated. The foreign trade for the half year shows a large increase in both imports and exports and the harvest prospects are favorable. A long conflict on the political question is anticipated.

PARISIAN SCIENTIST'S STARTLING FIND

Demonstrates Ability to Put Hertzian Rays to Death Dealing Use.

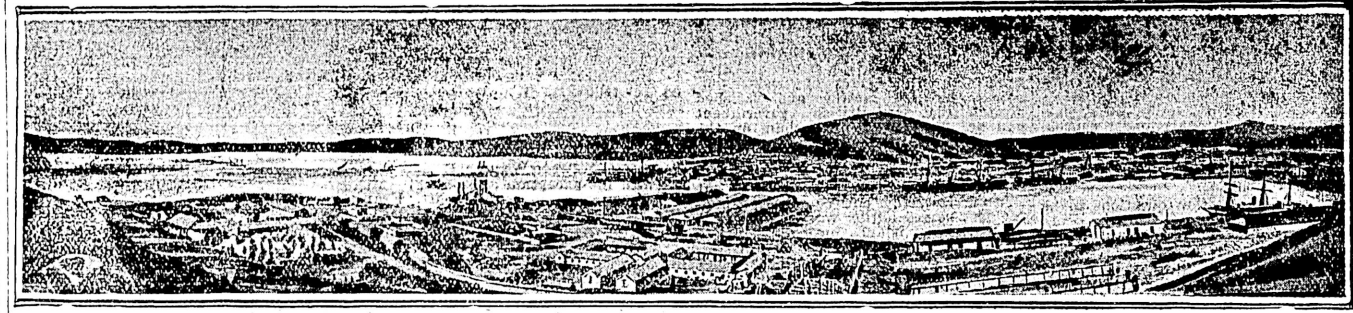

Paris, July 18.—Dr. LeBon, a science investigator, has reported an accidental discovery which may possibly lead to a terrible death dealing invention. While he was experimenting with the Hertzian rays in his laboratory he was suddenly surrounded by what he describes as a rain of fire from an invisible source. He concluded from this that it would be possible to construct large metal mirrors capable of reflecting for several miles the Hertzian rays, which while remaining invisible, would ignite any explosive substance encountered, such as shells and gunpowder in magazines and cartridges in belts. Warships would be particularly vulnerable owing to their excessive use of electricity, while torpedoes on board of them could be exploded by an enemy whom they were designed to destroy.

FRENCH GENERAL'S FALL.

Paris, July 18.—Considerable surprise having been expressed over the failure of Gen. Bruzese, commander-in-chief of the French army, to attend a luncheon given by President Loubet and a dinner given by War Minister Andre on the occasion of the late pontificate, July 14, it now transpires that Gen. Bruzese was thrown from his horse and badly injured. He is resting on his estate at Orleans.

RADIUM A CURE FOR CANCER CASES

Charing Cross Hospital Physician Successfully Treats the Disease.

London, July 18.—At Charing Cross hospital Mr. Mackenzie Davidson, a well known surgeon, has successfully treated a cancer case by means of radium. "I am experimenting," said Dr. Davidson, "and I am hopeful that radium has proved effective with superficial cancer. As to deep cancer, I cannot speak, and I should be very sorry to see false hopes raised. The whole matter is new, and as to deeper cancer it would be premature to say anything. The Charing Cross case was one of rodent cancer of the nose, a superficial cancer, that is to say, one which is treated with the X-rays, the cancer was exposed for a short time to radium. Four exposures taking about a hour altogether were given at intervals of a few days. In three weeks the diseased part was healing satisfactorily, and in six weeks, with two further exposures, the growth was quite gone. You could not now tell on which side of the nose the cancer had been. There is no scar left."

Rome, July 18.—The Pope continues in the same enfeebled condition, but there is no indication of an approaching crisis, his condition appears to have lapsed into one of indefinite suspense, with the ever present danger of a fatal turn. Yet there is no immediate danger that such a change is near. During the morning the Pontiff remained comparatively quiet, getting some sleep, and his trial for murder.

Champions Are Defeated

Royal City Lacrosse Team Go Down to Defeat Yesterday.

After Exciting Contest Old War Horses Make Way for the New.

Brilliant Game Marked Only by One Most Unfortunate Event.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Vancouver, July 18.—The colors of the champion lacrosse team of British Columbia have been lowered on their own grounds—Vancouver defeating them by seven goals to five. Westminster had their championship team out, with Cheney in goal.

A good deal of Westminster money was won at the match, and more would have come to Vancouver if the supporters of the latter had not so strongly borne in mind the fact that the Westminster team were, as a rule, invulnerable in New Westminster.

Vancouver won because, as D. Woods, of the Altairell, said, the Vancouver home played such a fact combination that they would dazzle the devil—they were new men and the veteran team was mystified; they could not follow them as they had learned to follow the old home of Vancouver, and even the great Cheney was helpless to withstand the rain of shots poured upon the New Westminster goal.

It is perhaps unkind to say that the Vancouver defence did not show up well in comparison. But it was the opinion of veteran Vancouver lacrosse men that the defense on either side was not a success. It is hard to say why, but the four stars for Vancouver—York, Allan, Barr and Reynolds—have played better lacrosse than they did yesterday. On home, Matheson was simply a wonder; he was everywhere at once, and played around Turnbull, getting the ball from him again and again.

There were 6,000 people present and excitement was intense. Umbrellas and sticks were waved frantically during exciting moments, only at a critical moment, in favor of Vancouver, throwing her parol clean out of the grand stand in her excitement.

There was but one incident to mar the pleasure of the game. It looked as if it would be a clean game up to the third quarter. Referee Cullen had only sent two or three to the fence for minor irregularities, when Wells Grey struck Godfrey of Vancouver and knocked him out. Grey was desperately shouted at by the Vancouver contingent, and as he came towards the fence, he saw one man who called "Butcher Grey"; he never took his eye off the man, but jumping the fence, vaulted in to the grand stand and struck the man on the face with his stick. He was seized by the shirt, but the shirt gave way and he escaped, or he would have been badly beaten.

First quarter—Westminster, 2 minutes; Vancouver, 3 minutes; Vancouver, 8 minutes; Westminster, 6 minutes; Second quarter—Vancouver, 11 minutes; Westminster, 1 minute; Westminster, 1 minute; Vancouver, 6 minutes; Third quarter—Vancouver, 7 minutes; Westminster, 6 minutes; Westminster, 7 minutes.

CHILDREN POISONED.

Stanford, July 18.—Three little children of Frank Rosso, an Italian immigrant of this city, ate some canned mustard which they found in the yard, resulting in the death of one and the serious illness of the other two. The doctors are hopeful of saving the lives of the latter.

Days Doings At Ottawa

New Anti-Chinese Act Published And Effective After This Year.

Cabinet Puts the Finishing touches to Grand Trunk Pacific Scheme.

Mr. Emerson Takes to the Field and Will Fight For a Job.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, July 18.—The text of the new anti-Chinese act appears in the Canada Gazette today and takes effect January 1 next.

The cabinet today put the finishing touches on the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme, and a detailed announcement on this subject is likely to be made on Tuesday next. Hon. Mr. Fielding has assumed the duties of acting minister of railways and took charge of the measure in the House.

A nasty fight occurred here last night between some tin hands of the C. P. R. and the employees of the Pan-American exposition. The police force was called out to suppress the fight. The dead body of a negro named Jackson was discovered after the fight was over.

Mr. Emerson left last night for New Brunswick to look over the political situation there. Mr. Emerson expects to be called to the cabinet at the end of the present session. Just what department he will get has not been decided, but he will make a strong fight for the department of railways.

British Columbia's members, Messrs. Smith, Macpherson, Morrison, Barle and Gallihur, met Messrs. Green and Wilson, British Columbia delegates, yesterday, and had a talk with them over their mission to Ottawa.

SITUATION IN HAYTI.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 18.—The German warship Falke called here today for orders. She will proceed to Port Au Prince, Hayti, tomorrow, owing to the gravity of the situation there.

FLOODS IN GERMANY.

Glogau, Germany, July 18.—The continuous rise of the Oder is causing the greatest alarm. The entire portion of Glogau in the neighborhood of the cathedral is submerged, and the principal bridge crossing the Oder is threatened.

STEAMER COLLISION.

Kingston, N. Y., July 18.—The steamer Central Hudson, formerly the James W. Baldwin of the Central Hudson line, ran into and sunk the schooner Reliance, loaded with brick, near Essex lights early today. Calvin Delaney of Nyack, N. Y., captain of the Reliance, was drowned, his crew being unable to reach him on account of the City of Troy happening along and backing water. The members of the crew, with the exception of Captain Delaney, were rescued.

WHISTLER'S STRANGE ACTIONS.

Gave Stringent Instructions That Friends Should Know Nothing

London, July 18.—The last instructions given by James McNeill Whistler prior to his death were quite characteristic of the man. When the Associated Press correspondent called at the house today he was informed that the artist had left stringent instructions that no information whatever regarding his illness or death should be given either to his friends or the newspapers. The exact nature of Mr. Whistler's malady is not known. He grew rapidly worse a few days ago and died quite suddenly.

GOLF CONTENT.

Milwaukee, July 18.—The great golf contest for the Marshall Field trophy opened at the links of the Milwaukee Club this afternoon. Twelve teams are entered.

JEWES IN KISHINEFF.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—The police commissary of the Kishineff district has transmitted to the police commissioners in his jurisdiction a circular instructing them to take vigorous measures for the expulsion of such Jews from localities where they have no right to live, under the law of 1882 and threatening to inform the governor.

YACHT RACING.

London, July 18.—The schooner yacht Navahoe was the first boat to reach Deal in the handicap yacht race from the Island of Heligoland to this place, which was started Thursday. Among the starters were the Emperor William's Meteor, the Empress Iduna, the Comet and the Theresia.

ROBBED AND ASSAULTED.

Young Girl Dragged Out of Bed and Struck With Axe.

Montevideo, Minn., July 18.—Helen Olsen, aged 25 years, a pretty daughter of Tom Olsen, was assaulted early today by a man supposed to be a negro, and although alive at noon, she will die. Early today the girl was awakened by a man who demanded her valuables. She said, "If I give you all the money in the house, will you go?" The man ordered her to get the money. He then dragged her down stairs, where he struck her on the forehead with an axe or hatchet. A large posse started in pursuit of the assailant.

RUSSIA REFUSED KISHINEFF PETITION

Foreign Office Emphasises Objection to Interference by the U. S.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—The foreign office authorizes the Associated Press correspondent to say that the reason for its refusal to accept the Kishineff petition was the unalterable objection of the Russian government to outside interference in the internal affairs of the empire, and that even had the petition been acceptable as a diplomatic document Russia would have regarded the publication of the text before transmission as unusual. The foreign office also says it is willing to regard the incident as closed, and adds that Russia continues to cherish American friendship.

MINERS' CONCILIATION.

Willesbarre, July 18.—The mine board of conciliation issued an official report providing that when a majority of contract miners at a colliery petition for a docking bonus and elect one of the employers must accept such person, the wages to be paid by the miners making the request, the miners to make an assignment for such purposes. The board also rules that the duties of drivers remain as they were prior to April 1, 1903. The employees of Cove Brook protest against the advance of the price of coal to employees was non-occurred in.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Harrow, Ont., July 18.—The coroner's inquest into the case of Oliver Richardson, charged with shooting Edward Matthews, as the result of a dispute over a live fence, have returned a verdict that Matthews came to his death by a bullet shot from a pistol on July 10, in the hands of Oliver Richardson, fired with intent to kill. Richardson was taken to the county jail to await his trial for murder.

The Formal Dedication

An Interesting Ceremony Today at New Congregational Church.

Forty Years Have Now Elapsed Since Denomination First Worshipped Here.

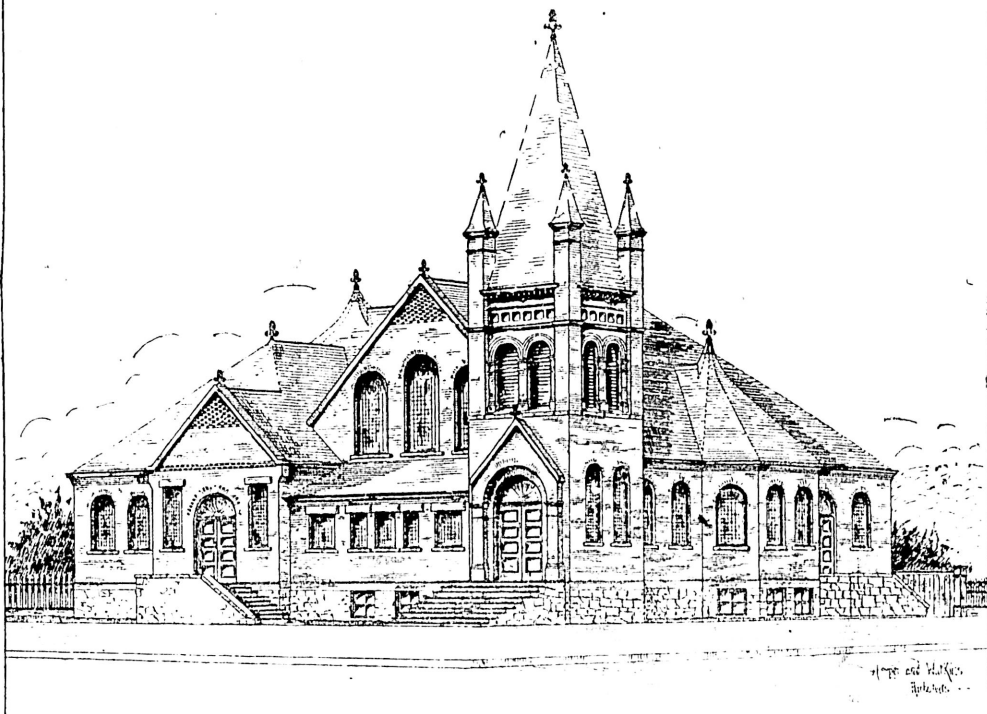

A little more than forty years ago Rev. W. F. Clarke, who died last year in Guelph, Ont., was asked by the Colonial Missionary Society of England, to come to Victoria and organize a Congregational church. He did so, and for a time held services in a building on Fort street, but trouble arose between the colored people and the white people, and he was ultimately returned to work the field. He ultimately returned to work the field in Eastern Canada, and Victoria was left without any organization in connection with the Congregational church until 1895, when on November 20, a church was organized with thirty-five members. Rev. Jonas Bushnell was the first pastor, but he remained for only a few months, after which Rev. P. C. Laviston Harris was called. He remained for two years and a half, during which time progress was made in many ways. Some money was put aside as a nucleus for a building fund, and from that time onward steady accretions to this fund have been made, until the result is seen in the handsome edifice which is to be dedicated today.

The first sod was turned by Mrs. Blyth on Jan. 8 of this year, and the ceremony of depositing a bottle with a history of the church, etc., in the wall, was performed on Feb. 20, by His Worship Mayor McCandless. The congregation have occupied the schoolroom for two Sundays and will the schoolroom for the first time in the church proper today, when Rev. W. J. Hindley of Vancouver, superintendent of missions for B. C. and the Northwest, will preach the dedication services at 11 a. m.

He will preach again in the evening at 7 o'clock, and will be assisted in the service by Rev. Dr. Reid and the pastor. Next Sunday the preacher will be Rev. W. W. Scudder of Seattle, superintendent of missions for the State of Washington. The morning service of next Sunday will hold special interest also, owing to the presence of several children, in which service the pastor will be assisted by Right Rev. Bishop Cridge, D.D., of the Reformed Episcopal Church.

It was hoped that Rev. D. H. Reid would be present for the dedication. He is unable to come and has sent his greetings, which will be read. He will be represented, however, in the person of his father, Rev. Dr. Reid. Another former pastor, Rev. F. C. L. Harris, will be represented at the dedication by his father, Mr. H. Harris of Vancouver. On Monday evening a social will be held in the church, at which it is expected that Hon. Lieut. Governor Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, His Worship Mayor McCandless, and Hon. A. E. Smith, U. S. Consul, will be present. A first class programme has been prepared, in which the following well known musicians will take part: Messrs. J. G. Brown, A. Coward, H. Kent, G. Hicks, G. Jennings Burnett, as well as Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Burnett. Mr. Burnett will give an organ solo, and display the qualities of the new organ, which has been presented to the church by

"Perhaps all would agree that we have grown less sectarian," says the New York Churchman (P. E.). "But is it not fair to acknowledge that we still hold the priceless heritage of the church in a sectarian spirit, as a possession rather than a trust, in the spirit of privilege rather than that of obedience? To the extent that we do we are a sect and not the church of Jesus Christ—the one church for all men. His church is in the world as a reconciler. Sectarianism cuts murder. His church stands for unity in diversity and diversity in unity. Sectarianism forces contradictions where they do not exist and is essentially divisive and dividing. We make Christianity too much a divine privilege, and too little a divine life. We seek agreement in doctrine and practice to the neglect of fellowship and charity, to the easy and endless breach between things and life. The church, like the family, ought to stand for relationship and for the unity of life to the utmost possible stretch of diversity in opinion and practice. The church is defined by the creed to be the unity and community of the saints. It is the living oneness of Christians with Christ, and with one another in Christ. We cannot be at unity with God and at variance with one another."

RECEPTION BY THE MACCABEES

Head of Order to Arrive Tonight—Arrangements For To-morrow.

During the past days the keenest interest has centered in the anticipated visit of Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister to this city. Mrs. Hollister is one of the many noble and gifted women who have devoted themselves to home protection against intemperance. In the National Council of Women, Mrs. Hollister holds an honored position in recognition of her splendid ability, but in the work of the Ladies of the Maccabees, more than any other, has Mrs. Hollister's magnificent talent as an organizer had scope. To this work she has devoted the past 15 years, in which time, under her skillful leadership, the order has acquired a membership of 125,000 members; while its basis of business and financial standing places it at the head of the list of women's fraternal organizations, and seventh in the entire list in America. ## LACROSSE.

The people who went to the Caledonia grounds yesterday afternoon were rewarded by witnessing a keenly contested game of lacrosse between the Victoria and Nanaimo intermediates. Hon. A. E. McPhillips, after making a few appropriate remarks on the benefits of health-giving athletic exercises, and also on the many admirable qualities embodied in Canada's national sport, faced off the ball at 3 o'clock and was given three rousing cheers by the players and spectators.

Neither team scored in the first quarter, the checking being close and the play very even. In the second quarter G. Simpson scored for Victoria, and Sam Hague got one between the posts for Nanaimo. G. Simpson scored again in the third quarter and another goal was made by Handley for Victoria. Nanaimo also securing one. In the fourth quarter Handley scored a repeated quarter to Proctor. This made the score 5 to 2 in favor of Victoria.

Simpson and Dobson were ruled off for two minutes in the first quarter, and Handley and Stuart for three minutes in the second quarter.

Hague was the star player for Nanaimo, though the entire Coal City team played good lacrosse.

Young, Jesse, McDowell, Calhoun and Stevens put up a good game in the defence, and Sweeney, A. Haughton and Coughill did effective work in home, though Proctor, Simpson and Handley were the more conspicuous for excellence of play.

The goals were scored in the following order:
First goal, Victoria, Simpson, 27 minutes.
Second goal, Nanaimo, Hague, 3 minutes.

Third goal, Victoria, Simpson, 5 minutes.
Fourth goal, Victoria, Handley, 7 minutes.
Fifth goal, Nanaimo, Hague, 2 minutes.
Sixth goal, Victoria, Proctor, 16 minutes.
Seventh goal, Victoria, Handley, 2 minutes.

The Victoria intermediates were the recipients of congratulations on the conclusion of the game for their fine work, as the Nanaimo intermediates were in senior company for a period last year. The victory is the result of hard training, and the fine combination work and good catching indicate that Victoria has material which will come to the fore many seasons pass by.

ATHLETICS.

Increasing interest is being shown in the games of the North Pacific Amateur Athletic Association, which will be held under the auspices of the James Bay Athletic Association at the Driving park on Saturday, August 15. All the athletic clubs, consisting of the Seattle Athletic Club, Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, Portland, Spokane Amateur Athletic Club, Brockton Point Athletic Association of Vancouver, and the James Bay Athletic Club, will be represented by track teams, containing splendid men in all the departments of the athletic sports open to competition.

The importance of the meet is enhanced by the international character of the events in which the best Canadian and American athletes of the Northern Pacific Coast will compete for honors.

Spokane is sending some crack pole vaulters, Multnomah will be represented by track teams, containing splendid men in all the departments of the athletic sports open to competition.

Zan, the first baseman of the Multnomah baseball team, and captain of the Multnomah club track team, will here recently, stated that the Portland Club will send a man who can do the quarter in 51 seconds. The Multnomahs will also have some good pole vaulters.

The J. B. A. A. will enter some strong men, and it is understood that there are some dark horses for the hammer throwing contests.

A sub-committee was appointed last week to get the track at the Driving park into the best condition, and arrangements are also being made for music by one of the local bands. The chief events will take place immediately in front of the grand stand.

ROWING.

The J. B. A. A. is making ten and probably eleven entries at the N. P. A. A. O. regatta, which takes place at Vancouver next Saturday. The number of competing crews and the entries also for the single and double events will be larger this year than at any previous regattas of the association. The J. B. A. A. hitherto has concentrated its aspirations in capturing the four-oared races, which are, of course, the principal events of the regatta. This year, however, Victoria will be represented by single and double scullers and tandem and four-oared canoes.

The rowers and paddlers who have been selected to uphold the colors of the club are rounding into fine condition under the careful training and coaching of such aquatic experts as D. O'Sullivan, A. N. Merrylees and T. Watson.

It is difficult to estimate the chances of the local senior and junior fours against the Vancouver and Portland shells, but there is every prospect that Victoria will more than hold its own in the various events. The keen competition between the different crews for premier honors is creating great interest in this year, as it is known that Vancouver and Portland are making every effort to win.

It is gratifying that the N. P. A. A. O. is making such satisfactory progress, in which the J. B. A. A. is putting in a great factor in assisting the association to a more prominent position in the sporting world. Instead of waiting after the sailing off of the four-oared events, there will still be the sculling and canoeing races to hold the attention of the spectators.

The regatta, which is being held at the city treasurer's office, the fine was forthcoming.

Senior Fours—W. W. Wilson (stroke), C. R. Kennedy, L. A. Gill, W. H. Jesse (bow).
Junior Fours—A. Maclean (stroke), F. Willoughby, J. B. Green, E. Ousack (bow).

Senior Doubles—E. Desbrisay, D. O'Sullivan.
Junior Doubles—W. Laing, T. Geiger.

Senior Singles—E. Desbrisay.
Junior Singles—T. Geiger.
Lapstroke Crew—F. Macrae (stroke), K. Wallaston, J. Bridgman, H. Austin (bow).

Single Paddle Canoe—A. Gore.
Tandem Canoe—A. Gore, T. P. Patton.

Four Paddle Canoes—A. Gore, T. P. Patton, H. Austin, J. Bridgman.
Coaches—D. O'Sullivan and A. N. Merrylees.

Trainer—T. Watson.
A crew will also enter for 13 paddle war canoe race.

The third series of lapstroke races in the J. B. A. A. club regatta was pulled off yesterday afternoon on the beach course in the harbor, and a great deal of enthusiasm amongst the rowing members of the association was manifested. The different heats were very keenly contested, and more especially the final heat in which the two crews racing were almost neck and neck till within a very short distance of the finish. These crews are undoubtedly the best in the harbor.

A large list of names will be on the boards for entering in the championship meet. The first heat of yesterday's event was rowed between crews captained by Austin and Knox, the heat going to the first named. The second was between W. T. Andrews and Jenkinson, in which the latter won out.

Third heat, between Finson and P. Andrews, was taken by Andrews. Fourth heat, between Jenkinson and Austin, was won by the latter, and the final heat, in which P. Andrews and Austin's crew came together, was taken by Austin after a hard fought struggle.

The fourth series will shortly be on the board, but for the present all attention in the club is being centred in the N. P. A. A. O. meet at Vancouver, in which the club has entered for each event, a feat in which the city should justly be proud.

CRICKET.

A very enjoyable game was played on Saturday afternoon at the Beacon Hill grounds between the Victoria Cricket Club and Trinity College Old Boys, and resulted in an easy win for Victoria. The game happened to be rather one-sided, but the T. C. O. B.'s are determined to turn the tables when the return match is played.

The match between the Fernwoods and Collegiate school resulted in a win for the Fernwoods by 81 runs.

Vancouver, July 18.—The Barracks cricket team of Victoria were defeated rather badly by the Vancouver team today. Vancouver went to bat and made 85, the Barracks totalling 33 in their first innings. In the second innings (Vancouver became accustomed to the visitors' bowling and piled up 215, J. H. Senkler making 74, not out. The Barracks made 20 in their second innings.

Happenings In Police Circles

The Man From Montana Who Fell Into the Hands of the Philistines.

The Visitor Who Came to Tell the Jailer About a Tragedy.

A muddled gent stood up in the dock at the justice factory yesterday morning after the magistrate dropped the case. "Say, what am I in for?" said the M. G., leaning over to the clerk, and whispering like the whispers of the stage.

"Murder, robbery, arson, forgery, and"—said the informant. "Is that all," asked the muddled one, "didn't they charge me with being drunk?"

Then they read the charge to him. He had been found drunk on Johnson street when he should have been on his way to the big ditch, where he is assisting the city engineer to extend the sewerage system by shovelling earth into the roadway from the lower strata.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the court. "I guess I'm guilty," said the offender. "Well, as it's your first off—"

"Let me tell you my tale of woe," said the muddled one, and then to the regulation slow music the muddled one went on to tell his "years ago when I was a little boy," etc.

"It's this way, I came from Montana and I'm working up in the big ditch. I'm a miner and I've worked with the best of 'em in Butte, but, on the square, I ain't been treated right here, so 'elp me."

"Why, I had hardly got a chance to draw me breath, much less pay, when they asked me for revenue tax. Then road tax. Then other things. And I'd paid taxes already at Cumberland, and I'd paid—"

"But this has nothing to do"—interrupted the court. "Let me tell it," said the muddled one. "When I came here and fell into the hands of the Philistines, and I had to pay this and that tax, and I fell to thinking of how the fellows were behaving to me. Well, judges, I got kind of mad, and I went out and got full."

"Well," said the court, as the offender paused for lack of breath, "I can convict you, and—"

"Oh, that's all right," said the garulus drunk, "how much do I owe this fellow?" and he pointed to the chief.

The magistrate placed the damage at two dollars and a half, and as the muddled gent still had money coming at the city treasurer's office, the fine was forthcoming.

The jailer, whistling "In the Good Old Summertime," and the barrack man was having a spasm because he had been to the ball game when a wild-eyed individual rushed in.

"Are you the chief of police?" asked the excited one. "No," said the jailer, "but I'll get him for you—what is it, what's the trouble?"

"Well," said the visitor, "there's been a fatal accident on Cadboro Bay road, and the corpse has been lying on the roadway for two days."

The jailer began to think of all the things he had read about looking insane men straight in the eye.

"For two days, you say," said he. "How was the victim killed?"

"What I'm telling you is right. The corpse, which was cut and mangled by a street car, has been lying on the track since," went on the informant. "And there's no arrests been made, nor nothing done."

Then the visitor passed on. The jailer didn't detain him. He thinks crazy men a nuisance when they begin to see things.

Later, they found that a hen had been mangled by a Fort street car, and the corpse is still lying on the track not far from St. Charles.

"And to think I let that fellow go out from here alive," soliloquised the jailer.

Mee Waugh, laundryman, came before the police magistrate charged with an infraction of the health by-law.

He is the latest victim of Constable Claryd's penetrating sense of smell. This officer is doing some good work in keeping Chinatown as clean as Chinatown can be kept, for when a Chinaman begins to get his place comfortable with a few accumulations which smell to heaven, it is blue papers and fines for John, which assists in safeguarding the health of the city.

Mee Waugh had a small barrel, in which he stored some strong smelling stuff for sale to Chinese market gardeners. He was engaged in filling it when the watchful eye of Constable Claryd's fell on the scene.

Constable Claryd's remembered that verse about ways that are dark and tricks that are mean being peculiar to the heathen Chinese, so he hurried across Douglas street from Mee Waugh's laundry and got Detective McDonald. Together they visited the laundry. In the meantime the Chinaman had hid the objectionable matter in an outhouse, and looked it in, but the leak was not strong enough to keep that smell behind doors, and the officers soon got on the scent.

It was strong enough to carry them. As a result, Mee Waugh was fined five dollars and costs in the police court yesterday morning.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING.
Dr. Fletcher Delivers Interesting Address at Metehosin.

A meeting of the Metehosin Farmers' Institute was held at Metehosin Hall on Thursday evening, the proceedings being opened by a few remarks by the president, J. Wallace. Mr. J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, then introduced Dr. Fletcher, of Ottawa, who gave a most interesting address.

Dr. Fletcher, after referring in an appreciative manner to the presence of so many ladies, said that the real use of Farmers' Institutes was to discuss the different questions affecting their vital interests. Everything is geared for some use. The farmer, who is true to himself, finds out all he can about everything entering into his daily life.

Dr. Fletcher's address contained much practical information gathered from his career as a close student of agricultural conditions. He emphasized the importance of the opportunities provided by farmers' institutes for obtaining information in all the intricate details which enter into the successful operation of a modern farm. There were fully one hundred present and general appreciation was expressed at the opportunity presented to hear Dr. Fletcher. Dr. Fletcher will leave this evening for a series of meetings at other island agricultural centres. He will be accompanied by J. R. Anderson, the deputy minister of agriculture.

SCRAWNY PEOPLE.
People grow thin, scrawny, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr. Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigor and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

Insist on getting Martell's Three Star brandy.

The submarine boat gets most disrespectful treatment from the Marine News in an article which closes thus: "The submarine is without practical maneuvering power, and all the experiments that have been held so far justify this statement. To flounder about is not to maneuver. It has no defensive qualities whatever in itself and its offensive qualities are largely imaginary."

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are pure vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

VARICOCELE CAN BE CURED

The cause of More Wrecks than any other disease.

It can be cured by Electricity.

Thousands of men have Varicocele and are ignorant of the harm which may result; they only know that something is draining the vim and ambition from their bodies and brains, and know of no reason to account for it. This terrible disease is the most treacherous and certain in its work of all known ailments. It comes on without apparent cause and never ceases in its destructive influence until it robs a man of all his vitality and leaves him a mental wreck.

My method has cured after the knife, injection, ligation and every other known means had been tried and failed.

For example, take the case of C. PARRY, 34 Maude Street, Toronto. This is his letter:—

Dr. M. A. McLaughlin:
Dear Sir: After my return from South Africa, where I had been serving as a soldier, I was suffering from rheumatism and lame back and a very bad varicocele. I purchased one of your Belts and am pleased to report that I am free from any pain in the back, and that I have not had a touch of rheumatism since I started to wear the Belt. The varicocele is also cured. I am a moulder and my work is heavy, and it gives me great pleasure to find that I can do it without the old soreness coming into my back and muscles.

Also HENRY ARMSTRONG of Gainsboro, Assa. Read what he says:—

Dr. M. A. McLaughlin:
Dear Sir: I take much pleasure in handing in this, my first report. I am happy to say that the losses have stopped completely, and the varicocele has all disappeared. I have worn the Belt for thirty days.

Here is another case—Mr. HUGH MCCORMICK, Copper Cliff, Ont. Read what he says of my method:—

Dr. M. A. McLaughlin:
Dear Sir: It is now thirty days since I began using your Belt, and I find a great improvement from its use. I sleep soundly every night, something I didn't used to do, and my appetite is very good. I haven't had a loss for over four weeks. Thanking you from the bottom of my heart, and wishing you every prosperity in the future.

Varicocele is primarily a weakness in the veins, through which the nutritive blood flows. The failure of this circulative force allows the slow flowing blood to coagulate and gather in a sort of congested state upon the inner walls of the veins; it gradually accumulates then until it almost closes the channel, thus interrupting the private circulation, causing pressure and distension of the weakened vessels and producing that consequent dragging sensation usually complained of in varicocele. This affliction is extremely distressing, for it leads to a most aggravating train of symptoms, often destroying the foundation of the general nervous system and causing total impotency. Of all troubles with which men are afflicted it is the most treacherous in its work and requires the most vigorous and direct treatment.

I have perfected the only appliance which has a special attachment that carries a strong current to the seat of this trouble. In connection with this attachment I also give my Special Spiral Suspensory Free with Belts for Weak Men.

This Belt is worn comfortably at night while you sleep and gives a powerful current that is always under the control of the wearer. It pours its vitalizing energy into the body for six to eight hours at night.

Easy to Wear! Cures While You Sleep! Never Fails!

Cures Nervous and Vital Weakness, Enlarged and Inflamed Prostate Gland, Lost Memory, Wasting of Strength, Weak Back and Kidney Trouble, Rheumatic Pains in Back, Hips, Shoulder and Chest, Lumbago, Sciatica, Torpid Liver, Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

READ WITH CARE. Every patient wearing Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt receives FREE, until cured, the advice of a physician who understands his case. Agents or drug stores are not allowed to sell these goods.

FREE BOOK. If you cannot call, write for my beautiful descriptive book, showing how my Belt cures weakness in men and women, and gives prices. Send for it to-day. I have a book specially for women.

WEST END GROCERY COMPANY'S STORE

Handsome Appointed Business Premises of the New Concern.

The West End Grocery Company have just about completed a thorough overhauling and rearranging of the store, and short time ago from Erskine, Wall & Co. The handsome premises on the corner of Government and Broughton streets are looking their best.

New glass counters have been added to the store fittings, and resplendent with the hundred and one bright hues of the gaudy labels on the bottles and packages displayed, and very materially to the appearance of the shop. Particularly in this case when the electric lights are turned on. The arrangements of the different departments has been carried out with everything in a handy and ample space is allowed in which to properly display the extensive stock carried by the company. In fact the idea of making the premises strictly modern and up to date factor in the new line has been kept in view and worked out most satisfactorily. The neat and attractive manner in which the goods are displayed is the first thing that strikes the customer on entering the shop.

In addition to the extensive ground floor the firm has also ample storage room in the upper portion of the building, which extends the full area of the block. In this portion of the establishment is located the bonded warehouse in which large reserve supplies of various goods are always on hand, and the locks and bars of His Majesty's myrmidons of the customs department. In the basement is stored the casks and tier upon tier of the choicest liquid stock.

On the first and second floors the more bulky articles of the reserve supplies are carried, and the large and constantly growing patronage of the new concern has led to the necessity of their large storage rooms to the utmost and that, too, at no very distant date.

The manager of the company, Mr. W. R. Riddell, states that the new concern has been a most gratifying increase in the run of custom, and is a satisfactory commentary on the methods of doing business as carried out both here and at the establishment in the suburbs of the city.

Both these concerns are under Mr. Riddell's direct supervision, and the resulting economy both in buying and in distribution is obvious. ## Many Liners From Skagway Passengers Tell of Great Stampede to New Found Gold Fields.

Danube Brings News of Meagre Run of Sockeyes in the North.

Three steamers arrived from Skagway and Alaska ports yesterday, and one from Northern British Columbia ports. Yesterday morning the steamer Spokane returned from her excursion trip to Alaska with a large party of tourists, all round trippers. Then later in the day the steamer Amur reached port, and a couple of hours later she was followed by the steamer Danube, which came from Naas and way ports about noon.

Of the steamers from Skagway, the Cottage City brought the largest complement of passengers from northern ports, and this steamer has also a large amount of gold dust on board. There was a little over half a million dollars on board the Pacific Coast liner. The gold was shipped by the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Dawson to the Seattle office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The Amur had a small complement of passengers. The Amur brought 32 passengers and there was reported to be about $100,000 in gold dust on board the steamer. Of the passengers twenty departed at Vancouver yesterday morning on route to Seattle. The steamer left Skagway at midnight on Tuesday, and is the latest of the fleet which arrived to leave.

She brought news that the stampedes are still going strong west of White Horse at the headwaters of the Yukon. It is said by recent arrivals from White Horse that a rich strike was made in that district by Henderson, who with George Carmack, discovered the rich gold fields on Bonanza creek in August of 1896. Little information regarding the extent or richness of the new found mines, or particulars in regard to their exact location had been received at White Horse prior to the sailing of the steamers from Skagway on Wednesday. There have been big stampedes, however, and White Horse was practically deserted. Nearly everybody in the camp has the gold fever, and there has been a great exodus to the strike. River steamers are having difficulties to retain their crews, and business has been almost prostrated at White Horse in the reason of the stampede. In one day as many as 250 licenses were issued to intending stampedes.

The rush from Skagway has not been as large as White Horse, White Horse and points along the Yukon, and pending the receipt of further information regarding the find Skagwayans are disposed to question the great richness of the strike.

The arrivals by the steamer Spokane made all tourists who visited the northern glaciers and had an uneventful trip along the Alaskan coast. The Cottage City had 70 passengers, and included amongst them was a former Victorian, J. Brown, who was formerly proprietor of the Adelphi saloon, and who has been in Dawson for some time. It was expected when the Amur sailed from here on her northern trip that she would not come on to Victoria—it being announced in Vancouver that she was to make her home port there, but after landing her passengers at Vancouver the steamer came on to Victoria as usual, and docked here at Turner, Beaton & Co.'s wharf at 5 o'clock.

DANUBE RETURNS.

Salmon Run Is Still Poor on the Skeena River.

Steamer Danube, of the C. P. R. Co., which arrived from Naas and way ports yesterday, brought nine salmon passengers from various points along the British Columbia coast. Included among the passengers were Messrs. J. C. Keith and H. McKay, and Mrs. Todd and Dallan, who have been visiting Metlakatla. There were also eight deck passengers, and the steamer was expected to make her home port there, but after landing her passengers at Vancouver the steamer came on to Victoria as usual, and docked here at Turner, Beaton & Co.'s wharf at 5 o'clock.

ANOTHER VICTORIA SHIP.

Lord Templeton to Be Given Canadian Register—This Her Home Port.

Capt. Horse of the former Canadian ship Lord Templeton, which was registered at this port until in the effort to get her under the United States flag with the expected transfer of the Pacific West India to Uncle Sam she was made a Danish vessel, registered under the name of Lord Templeton, is in the city to make arrangements to have the vessel again registered as a Canadian vessel, sailing from the port of Victoria, B. C. The Lord Templeton is now loading lumber at Port Gamble for Capetown, and when at Port Townsend en route here Capt. Horse endeavored to induce the collector of Port Townsend to allow him to bring to this city the Danish register which was surrendered to the collector when the vessel arrived and entered on June 10th, and the collector would not do unless the vessel cleared from Puget Sound.

The Lord Templeton, which is owned by parties at San Francisco, was formerly flying the Union Jack, but in the effort to get her under the Stars and Stripes when the purchase of the Danish West India was consummated she was given the temporary Danish register when at New York on June 15, 1902, and her home port was given as St. Thomas. In the effort to secure a permanent Danish register at the time agents were sent to Copenhagen and St. Thomas.

Hoquiam Again Wins Out

Visiting Team Once More Prove Victory Over the Local Nine.

Costly Errors Throws Away the Game When Victoria Seemed Sure.

Hoquiam made it two straight when they turned down Victoria for the second time by a score of 6 to 0 yesterday afternoon at the C. B. grounds. The visitors had a close call for their victory, the trick being accomplished in their final inning when the tally was 4 to 3 against them, and they had won in the ninth.

The audience, though hardly up to the usual Saturday attendance, was fairly good.

The innings were reeled off in a rather listless manner until the final innings, into which was concentrated all the excitement of the contest.

The visitors took the lead, scoring a run in the second, and another in the third. Emerson started out strong by fanning out Girard and Schwartz. Reeves made a hit, but Emerson whiffed around, caught him napping, and after running up and down the line from first to second after the style of an angler playing a trout, he was nabbed by Haynes, there being three players who assisted in the killing.

Victoria's first was over, but everyone sized up Philbrick, the Hoquiam pitcher, as a snap, for his out-sailed up to the plate looking as large as a balloon, being actually so.

Emerson—as he appears from the press box, ready to make those giant swings.

that the batteries could have run half way off the pitcher's box, and who was wincing along, and then get back in position in time to lose them. However, Philbrick proved a Chinese puzzle, and had the sticks of the home aggregation as groggy as landmen taking their first trans-Atlantic passage during the equinoxial gales.

Hoquiam got their first run in the second on Baker's hit, but their error was a thrown ball and a hint by Philbrick after two strikes, which Umpire Witzleworth allowed.

They tallied again in the third on a error by Haynes of Ford's grounder, for which he had a "base" and a "passed ball." The ball seems in some manner to get past Whalen at critical points.

Emerson had them phased for the next three innings, and the ninth they got another run on singles by Philbrick and Holbert and Goward's miff of a ball that passed him on the bound. In the third inning of Victoria, Goward and Smith were doubled up from Philbrick to Graham to Swartz. Victoria scored two in the fourth on successive errors by the visitors' third and short stop and Whalen's cracking hit to centre for two bags, the first, by the way, he made in this city. The home team took the lead in the fifth, when Goward made a pretty single, Emerson reaching first on

A birdseye view of how the game was lost in the ninth. Everybody ran.

Collins' wild throw, Goward scoring on the throw and Emerson coming in from third on Haynes' fly to left.

When Hoquiam went to the bat for the last time, with the score 4 to 3 against them, it looked a sure thing for Victoria. Baker, the first runner, put out a fly to Goward, which was neatly gathered in. Graham followed with a single and stole second, but was caught at third on a throw from Burnes. Philbrick singled, Halbert also safely. With two men out and Philbrick and Halbert on second and third, Collins did the business by hitting safely between short and third after two strikes had been called against him. The ball went out to Moore, who threw to Whalen, but the latter was not equal to the occasion, for he made a heart-breaking miff as it came in on the bounce. Philbrick crossed the plate, and before Whalen could run to the grandstand and return the ball Halbert had come in with the winning run. Collins thought it was so easy that he also came dashing to the plate. Whalen threw the ball to Emerson, who tagged Collins and Umpire Witzleworth called him out, but Emerson dropped the ball and it was necessary to reverse the decision. The crowd seemed to enjoy the local team's discomfort, as they cheered the visitors lustily for pulling the game out of the fire. The spectacle presented by the home team when Whalen allowed Moore's throw to pass him, seemed to crowd the crowd as most Indians, and screams of laughter mingled with the cheers for Hoquiam.

Victoria in their half of the ninth, caused a few sanguine fans to indulge in a faint hope, which was speedily turned to disappointment, when Goward and Emerson flew out and Moore was caught at third.

Haynes did good work in the fifth and sixth, when he had four chances in succession without an error.

Moore judged Graham's liner to left in splendid style in the seventh, when second and third were covered by Hoquiam runners.

Goward also made a good running catch in the ninth. The fielding feat of the day, though, was Halbert's catch in right field after a long run.

It is understood that the management will put Chase behind the bat as soon as he is in shape, and thus put an end to the burlesque games now being perpetrated. With Chase doing the back-stopping and the accession of Titus, who twirled so successfully on Friday evening, the team will be strong enough to do battle again in the same old style. The public will support good ball, but can hardly be expected to patronize the kind of play handed out during the last two games. It is only fair to make allowance for the crippled condition of some of the players. Everything will be forgiven if the men are assigned to definite positions and not be switched all over the field from day to day.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.

And instead of sending for a physician so long, just see that a bottle of the old family stand-by, Nelson's Nervine is in the house. If the baby gets cramps, colic or stomach ache, administer a few drops of Nervine. When the children come in coughing rub their throats with Nervine, and for your own stomach and bowels take a dose of Nervine. You will find Nelson's Nervine stronger, more pleasant, more lasting in results than any other pain reliever. Don't fail to get Nervine today—it will cure the pains and aches of the whole family and costs but a few cents in any drug store.

SAANICH DISTRICT --- ONE OF THE GARDEN SPOTS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

THE district known as North Saanich is that portion of the Saanich peninsula occupying the northern tongue, and includes the flourishing town of Sidney. Sidney is the terminus of the Victoria Terminal & Sidney Railway, and is now a very busy point, there being two departures and two arrivals of steamers daily. There is also a saw-mill, but at present it is closed down, the owners having apparently some trouble in keeping the concern running steadily.

North Saanich is one of the most fruitful farming districts on Vancouver Island, and for many years has been the home of many successful hop-growers, notably Messrs. William Trench and John J. Downey, whose farms adjoin on the West Saanich road, west of the farm of Mr. W. J. Taylor, K. C. This year Mr. Saugster has a very fine looking crop east of Mr. W. Le Poer Trench's. Three and four years ago Mr. Trench himself grew extensively. Of recent years, however, Mr. Trench has ceased growing hops.

SIDNEY HOTEL—WM. JENSEN, PROPRIETOR.
A First-class Tourist Resort

The Sidney Hotel is now owned and conducted by Mr. William Jensen, who has had very many years' experience in hotel ventures in the province. The hotel is very comfortable, convenient to the railway, and has an incomparable outlook over the Gulf and the islands dotted here and there like emeralds in a setting of silver. It is an ideal spot to spend a holiday, there being every facility for boating, shooting, fishing and hunting.

North Saanich is reached from Victoria by either the East or West roads, both of which are splendidly macadamized and ideal for bicycles, automobiles and ordinary conveyances. The East road is the more used, skirting as it does the beautiful Swan and Elk lakes and running through the flourishing village of Saanich-on, or, as it is more usually called, South Saanich.

An immense amount of timber has been taken from the district for the past many years, until now there is more cleared land than uncleared, and the country looks well settled, as indeed it is, and in a high state of cultivation.

The outlook for the present year for the farmers is very bright. Haying, though very considerably delayed, has continued unintermittently for the past three weeks, and now all the crop is in and safely stacked in the barns.

The wet spring has proved very beneficial to the root crops, while the grain looks very well, though the straw looks rather poor. The hop crops look very healthy, and given no disease and fairly warm weather from now on, the growers should reap an abundant harvest.

J. J. WHITE'S STORE, SIDNEY, B. C.

The above cut represents the store of J. J. White, postmaster and general merchant. Mr. White has only very recently entered into business in Sidney, but has already worked up a very nice business. Mr. White was for many years station agent at Sidney for the former owners of the Victoria & Sidney Railway.

Considering the proximity of the district to Victoria, it seems somewhat strange that campers do not take advantage of the bays innumerable for summer camping. The district has everything in its favor—close proximity to the city, land-locked waters, and the best of everything can be bought at merely nominal figures—while for those who care for one-day trips only, Mine

Mr. Fairclough's farm is situated on Saanich Inlet, and the view here shown gives a very good idea of the beautiful view obtainable from his residence. The rather wet spring has made the crops show splendidly, and there seems every promise of a very successful year.

DAYFIELD ON SAMUEL FAIRCLOUGH'S FARM.

View of lay crop on Mr. Fairclough's farm. Haying, though somewhat delayed this year, has, thanks to the good weather of the past two weeks, proceeded without any cessation, until now all is safely garnered in.

Host William Jensen of the Sidney Hotel has every convenience, and will give anyone who pays him a visit a hearty welcome.

There is another hotel further north, conducted by Mrs. Wright, widow of Alexander Wright, who died only this spring. This hotel was originally an old mill, and is owned by Mr. Brockman, of Milling fame. It is a beautiful spot, and the summer home of many Victorians. It offers a good chance to an energetic couple, Mrs. Wright intimating during the visit of the writer that she was anxious to retire, her husband's death and the trouble consequent therefrom having nudged her for the hard work necessary to carry on the hotel business.

dwellings and school houses. During the pastorate of Rev. Joseph Hall the present church was erected in 1890. It is a pretty edifice, of neat design, well situated and comfortable.

The church site was donated by Mr. Samuel Brockman, and the late Mrs. Henry Brockman was largely instrumental in securing the completion of the church. A neat marble tablet is erected to her memory.

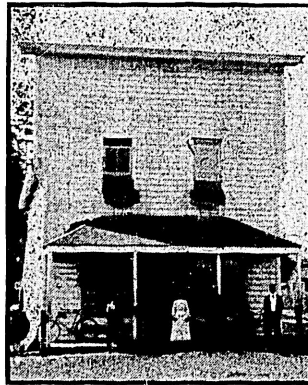

A good bell has been generously donated in memory of the Rev. brothers, who were among the first settlers in Saanich. The past year has been very successful in all branches of Christian work. Increasing congregations at the public services and generous contributions are favorable signs.

L. DICKINSON'S NEW STORE.

L. DICKINSON'S PRESENT STORE, Sidney, B. C.

Present store occupied by Mr. L. Dickinson, of Victoria, and under the management of Mr. James Critchley. Mr. and Mrs. Critchley are very popular, and the success of Mr. Dickinson's long-established business is in a great measure due to their untiring energy and unflinching courtesy. At the close of the present year they will occupy the new store building which is reproduced above.

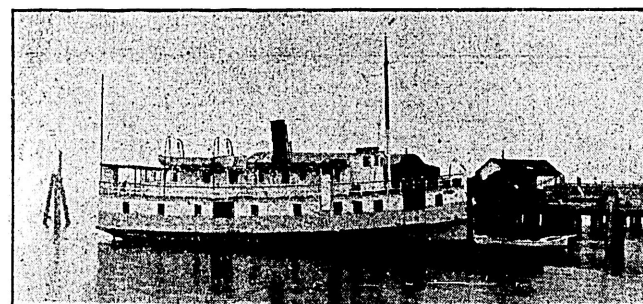

The following are the officials of the church: Stewards, J. W. Brockman and W. R. Armstrong; society representatives, Mrs. Mark Hewitt and Alex. McDonald; organist, Mrs. W. N. Copeland. Rev. T. H. Wright, the pastor, is one of three brothers who have entered the institution he is an undergraduate. Mr. Wright has had a successful career, and has done good work for the church of his choice. He has done pioneer work at Michel and Morrissey mining camps. One of the ministers of the East, who speaks of Mr. Wright's work, says: "It is with pleasure that I testify to the faithfulness, devotion and ability of Bro. Wright. I associated with him in pioneer life in the beginning of his ministry, when he never hesitated in the face of opposition, and ever kept before him one single purpose. I have been near him continuously since then, and have marked his growth in position, in mental and spiritual development, in capacity for special work of literary and statistical sort, and most particularly in journalistic and conference undertakings."

Rev. Mr. Wright is a strong advocate for church union, and believes that such a union is possible between the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches. In communication with a prominent member of the committee on union, Mr. Wright advanced the union of those churches in British Columbia, Manitoba and the Northwest as an experiment, if too strong opposition was experienced from the older provinces, as in the West the conditions were different and more favorable to a united evangelical church. Mr. Wright received a reply to his communication stating: "Your views on church union are broad and wise and intelligent."

North Saanich has a daily mail service, money order office and long-distance telephone service, and is consequently quite in touch with the outside world, and is in all respects a most progressive and desirable locality.

Vagrant Verses.

THE CREED TO BE.

Our thoughts are moulding unmade spheres,
And, like a breeze, are passing o'er the seas,
They thunder down the formless years,
And ring throughout the universe.
We build our futures by the shape
Of our desires, and not by acts,
There is no pathway of escape,
No priest-made creeds can alter facts.
Salvation is not begged or bought;
Too long this selfish hope sufficed;
Too long man reeked with lawless thought,
And leaped upon a tortured Christ.
Like shrivelled leaves these worn-out creeds
Are dropping from Religion's tree;
The world begins to know its needs,
And souls are crying to be free.
Free from the load of fear and grief
Man finds his peace in ignorance;
Free from the ache of unbelief
He died to in rebellious rage.
No creed can bind him to the things
That feed the first crude souls evolved;
For mounting upon daring wings,
He questions mysteries all unsolved.

Above the chant of priests, above
The blarney voice of praying shams,
He hears the still, small voice of Love,
Which sends its simple message out.

And clearer, sweeter, day by day,
Its mandate echoes from the skies—
"Go roll the stone of self away,
And let the Christ within thee arise."

The Latest Paris Hats

There is always something peculiarly attractive about summer millinery. This season it seems as though the milliners had combined to turn out such fascinating specimens of headgear that no mortal woman could possibly avoid buying immemorial hats.

There are hats to wear with the simplest of frock-hats for morning, noon, afternoon and evening; for he it understood there are many opportunities, such as dining at fashionable restaurants, both in town and at the summer resorts, where the most elaborate of gowns are requisite, and with these same elaborate gowns a corresponding elaborate style of hat is imperative. For this purpose both large and small hats are in style, but the large ones are the most popular, in spite of the undoubted fact that it is being made to bring the small hat into fashion again.

White lace and black lace hats, large, small and medium size, are exceedingly smart and most becoming, and are made up in so many different fashions as to make them possible for many different occasions. The broad, flat hat, with small round crown and with brim of gathered lace, and with a pink rose under the brim, so arranged that it rests against the hair, has a picturesque effect.

Hats made of ruffles of fine embroidered muslin, the ruffles in printed colors, are new this season, and with the finest of batiste a rather heavier muslin is used. The shape is the same round flat one, but there is a twist of sky-blue ribbon around the low crown, and a bow of the same ribbon on the band inside, with perhaps a pink rose caught in the bow that finishes the band. These hats can be cleaned and can, it is said, be laundered, but that would necessitate taking off the ruffles and replacing them, which would virtually be making the hat new.

There is no end of different weaves of straw—the rough shiny ones, the dull ones, the finer, like chip, or crin, and often with entrelacs of fine lace. Not new this season, but still in fashion, are the flat hats of fine white crin, with box pleatings of tulle around the crown and no other trimming whatever. Dainty and light in effect are these hats, and most becoming and so in keeping with the thin batiste and muslin frocks that give a more youthful appearance, but in yellow straw, with a bunch of pink roses at the side and a band of black velvet around the crown, the hat is so smart and attractive that, of course, it must be included among the absolutely necessary ones.

The shapes with the brim at the back, so short that all the hair shows are still in favor, but the fashion has unfortunately become too exaggerated, and a style of hat that shows almost the crown of the head from the back and has a veritable front is popular. The correct rendering of this fashion is and should be most attractive, for with the brim in front and at the sides large enough to shade the face becomingly, and gradually tapering off toward the back, the chances are ten to one that the hat will be becoming.

Both flowers and feathers are fashionable this season, and are sometimes used together, but as a rule it is thought smarter to have either one or the other. A popular and smart shape is made in fine straw, with brim curved up at one side, and trimmed with one long feather that starts at the back, goes around the entire crown and the end hangs down on the hair at the back. Of course this requires a long and fine feather, but then feather-trimmed hats must needs be included among the expensive varieties, and it is never a good plan to economize in the feathers that are used. Better to choose some other style of trimming that in itself costs less.

Lace is always becoming on a hat, and a quiet and attractive shape is one with the face, but with brim covered with lace, so that the brim projects over the forehead and from the brim falls the edge of lace. A stiff bird with outstretched wings, or, if the hat be large enough, two birds, are at the left side and partly over the crown. These hats are smartest when made in black, but the style has lately appeared in yellow or white straw, with bright green bird or birds, green being for the moment exceedingly fashionable.

How We Lost This House on $100. A Week

When Tom and I were married we moved at once into a charming but modest uptown apartment. Tom was cashier in a broker's office at a salary of $5,000 a year. Things went swimmingly, and we were as happy and contented as any two young persons ever were. The $10,000 a year we had to pay for rent seemed a big sum to us, and it looked bigger the second year than it did the first. Somehow, even though we had not been extravagant, we never seemed to have ready money. The $5,000 was gone and there were unpaid bills when the first anniversary day came round.

"Tom, dear," I said after we had finished a most dainty served anniversary dinner, "don't you think there is something wrong in our methods? We surely ought not to spend all of our income. You know prudent people lay aside something for a rainy day. Illness may come, we may have unexpected demands upon our resources at any time. What will we do at such times?"

"Oh, don't worry, little one," he replied as his eyes took on the tender expression which really made me Mrs. Tom. "We'll get on somehow, and your sweet face was never intended for worry wrinkles, so don't wrinkle them."

"Well, I know this, Tom: The Jack-mans live out at Jinglewood, only an hour's ride from Wall Street, and they own their own place and they are paying for it by the year. The price was only $10,000, and the house is just splendid, with grounds, and a barn, and roses, and a garden, with fresh peas and corn every day that are much nicer than you buy at the vegetable man. Why, we could own a place like that in ten years for the rent we are paying."

"The interest on $10,000 is only $500 a year," said Tom, thoughtfully; "that would leave $500 a year for taxes and other things. Surely, that ought to be enough. I'll figure on it a bit."

Then followed six months of delightful planning. We talked by the hour of the kind of house we wanted, and built all sorts of pretty air castles founded on a home in the country, which we should eventually own. We studied plans and styles, discussed fireplaces, mantels and decorations. Magazine advertisements of single stain, bathroom outfits, house points and heating systems became as interesting as fiction. These were months of unalloyed pleasure, and when spring came we were ready to begin the search in earnest. We decided to try Jinglewood, so I could be near Helen and have the benefit of her advice.

It was not nearly so difficult to find a house as we had anticipated. It was one of a number of houses built in a section that was being developed upon an artistic and scientific plan by a big realty company. All the papers were to be uniform, no house to cost less than $10,000. The character of the purchase was of more importance to the company than his cash. Providing the house-seeker could convince the company that he would be a desirable addition to what was to be a community of artistic and agreeable people who owned their own homes, he could secure most liberal terms. We had no difficulty along this line.

Tom said I was to have an allowance of $40 a week on which to run the house, provide the table and pay my modest retinue of servants—a cook and a waiting maid. Tom was to take care of the other expenses. I engaged a cook at $20 a month and a waitress at $15; it was splendid, I felt at last that I had my work to do, and the responsibility gave me joy. We joined the golf club, and in due time met the other homeowners near us. We entered into the innocent enjoyments peculiar to suburban life, and found great satisfaction in it. Tom said the ride to the city and back every day was not irksome; in fact, it was pleasanter than the daily squeeze on the "L" road. By exercising care and economy I performed my part of the contract on my stipulated allowance. We lived plainly but well. The summer passed delightfully, and we voted our home a great success. We lived a great deal out of doors, and our health and spirits benefited thereby.

When a later set in the social life continued, but it was indoors. It, too, was enjoyable, and the gaiety of the city was not missed nearly as much as we thought it would be.

"Tom, dear," said I one night, after returning from a meeting of the whist club, "isn't the Jordans' home lovely?"

"Very pretty."

"It is furnished in such exquisite taste."

"Yes."

They seem to have much nicer things than we have. Has Jim Jordan such a large income?"

"I believe he has a very good salary."

"Oh, pshaw! I do wish I could spend $500 on some new things. We need them, and I could make the money go far. Don't you believe we could afford it? It wouldn't be extravagant, because we would be accumulating property."

"Why, yes; I guess we can stand it. Have paid the semi-annual interest on the mortgage, met all my other expenses and have $1,000 in the bank. I think we are doing very well. Of course, we must keep our end up."

I thought I detected a look of care on dear old Tom's face as he stood at the side of the dainty brass crib, gazing at the chubby face almost lost in the snowy sea of coverings.

"What is it, darling?" I asked, eagerly, anxiously, instinct for a moment rising paramount; "isn't the little precious all right?"

"Oh, he's all right," was the smiling reply, as the proud paternal light suffused his handsome eyes.

"But you looked worried. Has anything gone wrong?"

"No; nothing in particular. Nothing, anyway, that you should be bothered about. The interest was due the next week, but I guess I will be able to take care of it. I can make a short note, if worst comes to worst. We will not have these heavy expenses after. We will not need the trained nurse after. The doctor will not press his bill, I am sure."

When I was strong enough to take charge of things I found a greatly altered state of affairs. Another member of the family, though a little one, had made a great difference. It was absolutely impossible to get along without a nursemaid, and that increased the force of servants to three, when before it had been two. Both the cook and the waitress were being paid more than when we started, and deep to my most earnest effort I could not replace them at lower figures. The $40 a week, which had seemed ample, now seemed meagre. Frugal economies as I would, I was in a constant state of impecuniosity.

Tom, dear," said I one night, "don't you think it possible to increase my allowance? You know how the household expenses have increased?"

"I don't see how I can," he returned, rather shortly, I thought.

"You know you have more than I do of our income, and look what I have to do with the $40 a week you allow me."

"Well, my dear," he replied, and with a slight note of irritation, "my money goes, too, for the common cause, does it not? What matters it how it is divided since it all goes? I would gladly give you more, but how can I when I haven't it? You do seem to appreciate what heavy expenses I have. I have been making some figures and they startle me. On the present basis I am paying:

Interest	$700
Life Insurance	700
Light	250
Communication	95
Clothing	600
Telephone	40
Taxes	140
Insurance	25
Water	25
Total	$2,440

"These are fixed expenses, and they amount to $2,440 a year. Divide that by fifty-two and you find that it amounts to a little more than $47 a week. That does not include any of my personal expenses, lunches, cigars, car fare and one thing and another, which, in the aggregate, amount to considerable. You know we have gone to the theatre occasionally and have had other pleasures which have all been paid for from my share of our income. I can see only one item that can be cut down, and that is clothing?"

"You don't mean that I have got to get along with fewer clothes than I have had?" I said, with some indignation.

"You know, Tom Browne, that there is not another woman in our set who has fewer clothes than I. Only two new gowns last year, and think how I have made over my old things and made them last until even you have been tired of them."

"Yes, I know you are ingenious and clever, and I do not say that you have been extravagant. That is one of the things that has bothered me most, that I could not dress you as I would like to, and as I did when we were living in an apartment. We both had plenty of clothes then. Why, I'm getting so that I feel that clean linen every day is an extravagance. I suppose I ought to make a shirt do two days. Other men do, I know, but I can't bring myself to it, somehow."

"No, I hope we may never be forced to that. If we can't have clean linen and a home I would prefer to sacrifice the home."

Something did turn up the next week and Tom came home as happy as a schoolboy at the beginning of "long vacation."

"It's all right, darling," he exclaimed, hardly waiting to give his usual embrace and kiss. "The interest is paid and I have a couple of hundred to the good and I didn't make a note either."

"Why, how did you do it?" I said, sharing his joy. "Have you been visited by a good fairy?"

"I hit it right in Wall Street," he replied. "I did not say anything to you about it, but two weeks ago I bought one hundred shares of Steel. It jumped ten points yesterday in the big bull movement and I cleared up a cool thousand. It came in the nick of time, too."

Two years followed, adding another member to our happy family and bringing us much pleasure, and, of course, many worries. We made the most of the pleasure and got over the worries the best we could. We had paid our expenses fairly well, but Tom said his bank account was always like a watermelon seed he planted once in St. Lawrence county—it wouldn't grow.

It was a month before the anniversary of our advent in Jinglewood. Tom had lighted a cigar and was blowing the smoke above his head and watching it curl lazily in the air. Suddenly he said "Do you know, dear, that we have been here for nearly five years?"

"Yes, and despite our worries," I replied, "I have enjoyed our home immensely."

"Our home!" he exclaimed with a trace of bitterness. "Do you realize how much of it is really ours?"

"Why, I have come to believe it ours. Everybody says property has increased in value here, and it must be worth ever so much more than we paid for it."

"Yes, they do say that values have risen—that is, they say it to buyers. But the reality company does not want to renew the mortgage. It says it needs the money to carry on extensive plans of development on the other side of town."

"But somebody else will take it?"

"Not for so large an amount. The best I can do is to place a mortgage of $10,000 upon it, and if a friend who agreed to lend me that. The savings bank will not lend more than $7,000."

"What will you do?"

"I don't know. I can't raise $4,000. How would you like to give up the idea of being home owner and go back to the city, to the theatre, to the clubs and to more clothes?"

"Say, Tom, it wouldn't be so bad after all."

And we did. The reality company offered to purchase the property back for $12,000 and save the disgrace of a forced sale. Upon the advice of real estate men, we were posted upon real values of suburban property. Tom accepted the offer. The interest on the $2,000 that we still owe is a link that binds us to Jinglewood and keeps ever green the memory of our youthful ambition to own a home.

A Pudding Two Hundred Feet Long The Office Tea a Modern Entertainment.

Think of a pudding two hundred feet long and so heavy that one hundred sturdy men and boys may just carry it. That is quite stupendous even in this day of gigantic things, but the fact that the making did not take place in New York or Chicago may be a little surprising at first blush. It was on a far island, however, and the man who stands for the story tells it in this fashion:

"I have been ten years on Savage Island and meant to come to England on a visit, but before leaving went to each village to say 'good-by' to the people. We had been three weeks from home when we got to a little village called Liden. The evening after our arrival there was a terrible commotion—men, women and children were running about—some carrying sticks, some logs of wood and some big stones. The men began digging a long, shallow trench with their sharp pointed sticks.

"The boys brought big stones and firewood. These were piled up all along one side of the trench. The wood was then set fire to, and was soon blazing, while the stones on the top were getting hot. While the fire was burning one side, little bundles of something white and soft were being undone from the clean leaves that contained them. This was the pudding out of which the pudding was to be made.

"There was no flour, suet, eggs, milk, plums or currants in it. It was the paste of a native vegetable called taro and all season, both grinded very fine and mixed together. A long pudding cloth was laid along the side of the trench, and in it the pudding was carefully wrapped. It was not called Liden, but after clean banana leaves. Over this long cocoon leaves were placed. When the stones were hot enough some were quickly laid along the bottom of the trench, then the long pudding laid on top of them, and then some more stones at the sides and on the top.

"Some girls had brought heaps of leaves to lay over the top to keep the heat and steam in, and the earth which had been dug out of the trench was thrown over the top. The cooks and the pudding makers all went to sleep and left the stars to watch their cookery. Next morning at eight the village was astir, men, women and children, all in holiday attire.

"It was soon uncovered and was found to be well done. Long poles were brought and laid the whole length. These were fastened to the pudding by small vines, canes, etc. It was then rolled out of the trench on one side; short sticks were made fast crosswise to the poles, and all was ready for taking up."

"About a hundred men and boys then raised it on their shoulders and, with one tremendous shout, started toward my house, accompanied by the whole village. I measured it before carrying and found it was two hundred feet long—two feet longer than the Monument of London is high. It measured thirteen yards in circumference.

"It was soon carried into pieces, four yards long, and these were distributed all over the land, men carrying as much pudding as their strength would allow to distant villages."

The "office tea" was a novelty in entertainments last spring, and women think very highly of it. The office tea is given by a man in his place of business in one of the skyscrapers, and in the list of bucolic functions in its considered functions it is a novelty.

The beginners were a couple of well-known architects whose spacious offices in the top of a ten-story building were worth all the admiring epithets bestowed upon them. A dainty 5 o'clock repast was served to ten girls and as many men, and a smart matron presided behind the teapot.

So enthusiastic was the feminine appreciation of the affair that a prosperous young broker determined to try the experiment in his suite of rooms in Wall Street. He had no trouble in persuading the women to come, and he picked up more than a dozen men by telegrams. With the help of the office boy he adorned the rooms with flowers. The food and dishes required were obtained from the nearest restaurant. The group of well-dressed women who fluttered up in the express elevator to the fifteenth floor created a sensation in the building, and the experiment was a success.

In the spring many a charming little tea was held in various parts of the office district. The flowers from the table are always distributed among the guests, made as the unique features of these small affairs is their exclusiveness and the high average of masculine attendance, their popularity in ensuing seasons is assured, among the women at least.

English Women Teach Rich Americans Household Art.

Two English women, who sailed for their home recently, carried away with them a comfortable little sum in American dollars as the result of private classes which they held in New York last winter.

The English women, who are sisters, have made a careful study of antiques in silver, glass, china, bronzes, miniatures, jewelry, bronzes, marbles, books, furniture, etc.

For years they were employed as expert buyers for a noted English firm of dealers in antiques. Last winter an American woman persuaded them to come across the Atlantic and train classes of aspiring and art-loving rich women in a knowledge of the pure, good and true antique ornaments. The classes were designed with a view to training the wealthy amateur in intelligent purchasing and collecting.

The sisters came and found their classes waiting for them, and so eager to learn how to tell the real and old from the false and modern that complete success followed the experiment. The teachers and their pupils separated with distinct regret, and yet with a consoling sense of profit on both sides.
